The main port for the Turks and Caicos Aggressor II is Providenciales, Turks and Caicos Island, British West Indies and this time I get to go to! Check your calendar and join me!

This week of diving include the sheer walls of Providenciales, West Caicos and French Cay. Dives begin on the edge of the wall at 40 feet, plunging into the deep blue abyss. Cracks, crevasses and ledges are decorated with huge orange Elephant Ear Sponges, purple Gorgonians and crimson Rope Sponges. Scorpion fish, lobster and tiny nudibranchs bring the wall to life. Nurse Sharks, Reef Sharks and Eagle Rays cruise the deep blue looking for prey. And that's just a sample of the awesome marine life Turks and Caicos Aggressor II guests experience.

Included is unlimited diving from the vessel itself (not a tender) including night dives. Round trip airport transfers, accommodations on board, all meals and snacks and all beverages while on board.

Additional costs include crew gratuity, gift shop purchases, rental gear, continuing education courses and Nitrox.

13 Blue Dolphin Travel divers have already signed up to join me on this clear water adventure. You are invited too! Call me to reserve your space. MaLinda-480-940-9242

M/Y Philippine Siren July 3-13, 2012

Built on the Indonesian Island of Sulawesi, The Philippine Siren is a traditional "gaff rigged Phinisi" handcrafted from ironwood and teak. You will find no other dive live aboard as beautiful in Philippine waters, and being that she was built by divers for divers and not adapted from being a second hand research vessel, the choice is clear. She welcomes 16 guests on each trip to ensure abundant space for all divers. En-suite cabins are air conditioned with either a double or two twin beds. All meals and a wide selection of soft drinks, teas and coffee, beer and fully stocked cocktail and wine bar are included in your costs. Free Nitrox and Free dive equipment rental makes your packing a little lighter. Massage and laundry service is available at an additional charge. This Itinerary covers the Southern Visayas from Mactan, also known as Cebu. This region is home to some of the best diving in the Philippines, with its wide diversity of marine life, steep coral covered walls, gentle sloping reefs and muck diving hotspots. During the 10 day charter we dive the islands of Cebu, Cabilao, Panglao, Balicasag and Pescador, along with the dives at Apo Island marine sanctuary and Dauin. The trip offers not only fantastic macro and the chance to see schooling fish, but the possibility of some larger pelagic too as the shy thresher sharks come in to feed on the schools of sardines.

$3649 per person for 10 nights

Space is limited. Please call to reserve yours before October ends.

Scuba Club Cozumel Nov 5-12, 2011

AYACANORA IN THE BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS

The 72 foot sailing vessel Ayacanora ports out of Red Hook, St Thomas, USVI. Your hosts, Mike and Roberta Haver arrange private transportation from St. Thomas airport to Red Hook and meet their guests at Maggie McGuire's, a colorful local hangout on the pier for a "Welcome to the Islands" cocktail. You then board the tender for the short ride to the Ayacanora. The boat is one of a kind, beautiful and maintained in Bristol fashion. The main salon is furnished in the style of a period home providing ample room for relaxing, entertaining or just enjoying a movie. The spacious dining area easily accommodates 8 guests on a mirror polished mahogany oval table with a gimbaled center piece. Ayacanora offers three guest staterooms. The roomy aft stateroom is furnished with a queen size bed, en suite bathroom, comfortable seating for reading or relaxing, a writing desk and 6 portholes allowing access to the gentle island breeze. The two forward guest staterooms offer double beds and also have en suite bathrooms. Mike and Roberta will gladly customize your cruise destinations to your liking. Couples, families or dive buddies are all welcome. A cruise aboard the Ayacanora is a memorable experience.

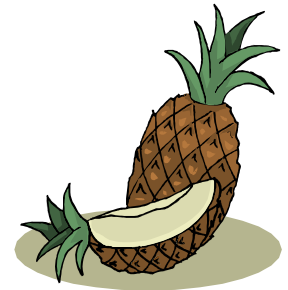

Recipe of the Month

Roberta's Mango Caribbean Curry Chicken:

Mike and Roberta Haver own and operate the luxury 72 ft. charter sailboat Ayacanora based in the beautiful Virgin Islands. Guests are treated to a cruise never to be forgotten as Mike guides them through the islands and tells tales of a lifetime at sea while Roberta prepares truly gourmet meals daily. Roberta, also a licensed captain, earned a degree in Culinary Arts & Management and graduated cum laude as a certified chef. This is one of her fabulous luncheon selections.

8 or 9 chicken breasts (cooked, cooled, chopped)	2 Tbsp. lime juice
1 Tbsp. Mango Chutney	1 cup walnuts (chopped)
1/2 cup Mango (chopped)	2 Tbsp. soy sauce
1/2 cup pineapple (chopped)	1/4 cup green onions (diced)
1/2 cup seedless grapes (sliced)	1/2 cup hearts of palm (diced)
1 Tbsp. curry powder	Salt & pepper to taste
1 Tbsp. mayonnaise	3-4 pineapples
1 Tbsp. sour cream

Bake chicken in foil 30 minutes, cool and dice. Slice pineapples in half from bottom through the top 'tree' and hollow out halves. Chop removed pineapple. To cooled chicken add lime juice, soy sauce, mayo, sour cream, curry powder and toss well. Add onions, palm hearts, fruit, chutney & season with salt & pepper. (Add 1/4 cup golden raisins for more sweetness) Fill hollow pineapple halves with chicken mixture and serve. An impressive presentation, served with an ice-cold pitcher of piña coladas and crisp baguette, it's an elegant anytime luncheon. Serves 6-8 pirates.
